

The Litigation Specialists Burg Simpson Combines Legal Smarts and Street Smarts

Most businesses want to avoid litigation whenever possible. Lawsuits are expensive, time consuming, and fraught with uncertainty. But, unfortunately, going to Court is sometimes the only chance for an acceptable outcome. And when it comes to litigation and courtroom strategy, there is no better team to have on your side than the law firm of Burg Simpson Eldredge Hersh & Jardine, P.C.

Combining legal prowess with fearless tenacity, Burg Simpson has earned a formidable reputation among business people and fellow attorneys throughout the U.S., especially in the Rocky Mountain region the firm calls home. What began as a small, boutique litigation firm in 1977 has since become a national presence with more than 40 attorneys, including former U.S. Senator Alan K. Simpson of Wyoming.

Burg Simpson has dual headquarters in Englewood, Colorado, and Cody, Wyoming, with additional offices in Dallas, Phoenix and Washington, D.C. The firm is often hired to try cases in state and federal courts throughout the United States. "We are the eyes and ears of many companies around the country and around the world in the Rocky Mountain region," notes Burg Simpson Shareholder Tiffanie D. Stasiak.

"We have grown by committing to provide the highest-quality legal services, and focusing on cost-effective, meaningful solutions for our clients, whether they are individuals or businesses," says Michael S. Burg, Founder and Shareholder. "Burg Simpson attorneys are excellent communicators. We listen carefully to our clients, and address their needs thoroughly and decisively. As business people ourselves, we have a firsthand understanding of business people's needs."

estate development and land use, general commercial litigation, securities litigation, construction and employment matters, director's and officer's liability, insurance bad faith, personal injury, environmental law, mass tort and entity formation.

A Multifaceted Team Leaves No Stone Unturned

Burg Simpson is known for efficient and creative handling of large, complex cases, often across multiple jurisdictions. "Each case involves at least three teams of attorneys working in concert," says Shareholder

Peter Burg. "The legal SWAT Team researches pertinent case law and writes

briefs, the Discovery Team combs through stacks of documents and other evidence, and the Trial Team brings it all together for the judge and the jury. These teams work closely together from the inception of the case through its resolution. This approach leaves no stone unturned in creating a winning strategy."

Michael J. Heydt, a former district court judge, whose from-the-bench perspective helps guide the legal SWAT Team, and Seth A. Katz, an expert in electronic discovery often advise these teams. "Michael's judicial experience and Seth's skill at retrieving and interpreting databases have been invaluable to our clients," says Michael Burg. "But they are not our only stars. I'm often amazed by the creativity and brilliance that every one of Burg Simpson's attorneys brings to the table."
