American Board of Trial Advocates Presents: Civility Matters

Civility Matters Course Description:

Civility Matters is a program to assist lawyers of all experience levels handle themselves with civility and professionalism when faced with challenging situations. The program will present different scenarios involving discovery disputes, depositions and trial situations that challenge civility and professionalism. Three teams each consisting of prominent plaintiff and defense lawyers and moderated by Adams County District Court Judge Teri Vasquez, will address how to avoid and handle the challenging situations.

Civility Matters is developed and presented by the American Board of Trial Advocates, an invitation only organization of plaintiff and defense lawyers whose mission includes promoting civility among our profession.
